These devices often include a camera or image capturing component, so that a user may capture an image of a scene. In some examples, the user may be able to store the captured image on the mobile computing device. The user may subsequently share the captured image with other users. For example, the user may email the captured image to other users. However, these other users typically have to retrieve the image from the email and then download or stream the image before they are able to view or access the image. Thus, the process of sharing and accessing captured

The tunable coherent optical response of gelatin has been monitored in the visible and near-infrared spectrum over the wavelength range 460 to 1600 nm. A comprehensive empirical model based on prior experimental information has been developed. The model is described by a set of two coupled equations involving the contributions to the refractive index n(total) from scattering and absorption. The solutions to these equations provide the coherent optical response in the form of the transmission and reflection spectra. The key input parameters to the model, namely the Gelb-Anderson parameters, as well as the microstructure parameters, have been determined by fitting n(total) to both experimental and numerical data.The Accidents of Nature: Rehabilitating Antarctica? "…[t]he island's site has long attracted the curious and the less curious, people out to glimpse nature on its harsh and inhospitable extremes, or to call their own lives more precarious. The writers Julian Barnes, Graham Swift and Peter Heller, among others, have made detailed inroads into the island's past—most recently with the catchy title of their collection of essays, Antarctica: New Frontiers."Q: WebdriverIO: Get value from textarea using angularJS I am having following code elem.all(by.id("c-head")).all(by.model("app.user.po")).then(function(value) {
